Dear Cavaliers:

I have put this information together for the range group that was planning to be in Washington, D.C., on Veterans Day weekend. Sorry to say, the deal fell through, and I hope that you take advantage of the Association package. I will be at the Westpark on the 10th, 11th, and 12th.

I consolidated all my information, scratch pads, and matchbook covers into one list hoping that others may organize unique groups as "Range 6" Wayne Tubaugh has so admirably done for his "Mountain Boys".

For those of you who cannot attend on Veterans Day, I hope to see you someday. For those of you who are not members of the Association, I encourage you to join. In sending so many blind letters, I may have reached parents or relatives of deceased troopers. If I have, I apologize for re-opening of old wounds.

I encourage anyone to write me with any additional information of others from Battalion HHC or Delta Company not on the list or any corrections and/or deletions to the information listed. I also ask that the "Mountain Boys" pick a long weekend of choice in August 1989 for a family reunion at the location below.

Finally, I hope to see some recognizable names on the new member list in the next issue of "Saber", but I really hope to see you at the wall.

Close your eyes. Now think fun.

A breezy ride on a riverboat. Jammin' with a blues band.
Great food and festivals. A symphony on the riverbluff.

Easy. Entertaining. Exciting. That's Memphis.

Home of the Blues and Rock n' Roll. And Mud Island, a $63 million entertainment complex on the Mighty Mississippi. Graceland Mansion, home of Elvis Presley. The symphony, theatres, art exhibitions. Over 150 special events every year. Like the month-long Memphis in May International Festival. The World Championship Barbecue Cooking Contest. And the Beale Street Music Festival.

Smiling yet? Hold on to your party hat.

Memphis gets into your soul when the sun goes down. Bop non-stop in the clubs on historic Beale Street, and in Overton Square. Or, head out for a night at the races. Of course, there's lots of fabulous food (they don't call us the Capital of Southern Cooking for nothing!). You'll always be around the corner from one of our world-class restaurants or downhome cafes.

Now, open your eyes and discover the fun.

For your next meeting or convention, look to Memphis! Call (901) 576-8181 or write: Memphis Convention and Visitors Bureau, 50 N. Front St., Suite 450, Memphis, TN 38103.
